

The Internship Program at Rhema Word Theology College and University is a transformative opportunity for students who are ready to grow, serve, and gain meaningful hands-on experience that prepares them for their future. Whether you are a current college student, a high school student participating in the A+ Program, or someone who simply desires to explore your calling, this internship pathway is designed to help you develop real-world skills, strengthen your leadership abilities, and receive mentorship in a supportive, faith-centered environment. Rhema is committed to raising up strong, confident, and capable leaders, and our internship program allows you to work closely with dedicated faculty, staff, and ministry teams who are passionate about helping you discover your gifts and walk boldly into your purpose. High school students in the A+ Program can also earn valuable college credits while gaining early exposure to college-level learning, ministry training, and professional development—giving them a powerful head start on their academic journey. This opportunity is open to everyone who desires growth, excellence, and a deeper understanding of their God-given assignment.

Students who participate in the Internship Program can expect to gain:

- Leadership Development — Learn how to lead with confidence, integrity, and spiritual maturity.
- Hands-On Ministry Experience — Serve in real ministry environments and discover your unique gifts.
- Professional Skills Training — Build practical skills that prepare you for future careers and callings.
- Mentorship & Guidance — Receive support from experienced leaders who are invested in your success.
- College Credit Opportunities — A+ Program high school students can earn early college credits while gaining valuable experience.
- Personal & Spiritual Growth — Strengthen your character, deepen your faith, and grow in purpose.
- Resume-Building Experience — Gain meaningful experience that stands out in academic and professional settings.

If you are interested in becoming part of the Rhema Internship Program, we encourage you to take the next step and apply. Your future is calling, and this is your opportunity to rise, learn, and grow.
